

Scientific Process

What is the question you want to find an answer to?

What is your hypothesis? This is your best guess as to what the answer to the question will be.

What experiment will you perform to test your hypothesis?

What is your analysis of the experiment? What did you learn from the experiment that you just did?

What conclusion do you draw from this analysis?

What is your final observation about this experience?

